Can't remember a campaign season when the Republicans have made so many gaffes. At least Sarah Palin's word salad was mostly incomprehensible. Can the GOP's billion plus in TV ads wipe voters' minds clean of gaffes like "legitimate rape" before Nov.?

Thanks Paul Kekai Manansala for the graphics. Our friends in Europe contribute at 30% rate and they were surprised that so do we. And still we don't have universal healthcare or free/low cost college education? Even with the troubling economy, Spain's government seems to be able to only charge $1,000 a year for cost of university.

Romney might pay a tax rate of 13% -- but that's still half of what a typical family pays.

Meanwhile, the Obama team promises to drop the issue if he'll release just 5 years of returns. <http://nyti.ms/NM0ZPs>

RIGHT-WING FRAME

Tax Cuts Create Jobs

Decoding The Big Con:
If we actually talked about tax cuts for millionaires, billionaires and mega-corporations, Americans might object. So we refer to ourselves as "job creators" and "small businesses." No need to mention we often just pocket the tax cuts, any jobs we create are in China and India, or at best, low-pay, no-benefit "jobettes." Just tell the rubes the prosperity will trickle-down... eventually.

 President Obama	2012 Tax plans compared	 Lord Romney
Increase revenues by rolling back tax cuts for wealthiest Americans		Increase revenues by raising taxes on middle class
Make rich pay investment gains taxes at rates similar to working people's income tax		Cut tax rate that rich pay on their investments
Stimulate consumer spending by cutting taxes on middle class		Stimulate the "supply side" by cutting taxes for the super rich. Middle class benefits from "trickle down."

POST ON POLITICS ROMNEY-RYAN GOP TICKET

With Ryan in, Medicare key

Florida seniors weren't fans of 'bold' policy that intruded on health care.

By George Bennett
Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Sen. Romney's selection of Paul Ryan as his running mate promises to intensify the debate over Medicare in senior-heavy Florida, where the issue could tip the perennial swing state's 29 electoral votes and the presidency.

Leading Florida Republicans, including Sen. Marco Rubio and House Gov. Jeb Bush, praised Romney's choice on Saturday. Ryan, 42, admires say the 42-year-old House budget chairman from Wisconsin will bring communication skills, policy acumen and intellectual heft to the debate on taxes, spending and the $6-trillion national debt.

"Paul Ryan is a courageous reformer who understands our nation's challenges, has proposed bold policy solutions to solve them, and has shown the courage to stand up to President Obama and other Washington politicians trying to tear him down," said Bush, who was the running mate of choice

Paul Ryan is against mandates. He's against Obamacare because of the mandate. And he's also against two other mandated programs: Social Security and Medicare.

Paul Ryan was a risky pick aimed at the Tea Party base. The choice resembles John McCain's selection of Sarah Palin in 2008. An older Romney is adding youth and energy to the campaign. However, at the same time, Romney's now associated with Ryan's European-style austerity plan that calls for deep cuts in social programs.

Ryan may not help much in the Rust Belt where people tend to rely on Social Security and Medicare, programs that he wants to replace respectively with "private accounts" and vouchers.

Yep, that's how I remember it...lol see, even in the old days decent people knew who rides IN the car and WHAT rides on the roof! WOOF!

This is an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

As you can see, this wagon is loaded with means for owning a Volkswagen Station Wagon.
There's too much stuff, and not enough wagon. Only about 85 cubic feet worth.
If you owned a box-shaped VW, you could take all that stuff off the roof and put it inside where it belongs.

The VW holds 170 cubic feet, about twice as much as most regular wagons.
Or you can stop 9 people and still have room for all their luggage.
Aside from capacity, you also get a sensible little engine that averages 23 miles on a gallon of regular.
And you never have to pay for antifreeze, hoses or radiator repair.

There isn't any radiator.
So every time they make a conventional station wagon, they also make a little VW ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.
(Secretly, we wish them every success.)
